MOST EXCELLENT

SPEECH

To both Houses of

PARLIAMENT,

On the 17th of May 1830

LONDON:
Printed by G. & J. Robinson, 10, St. Paul's Church-yard, 1830.
By Appointment to His Majesty the King, and to Her Majesty the Queen.

His Majesties
MOST GRACIOUS
S P E E C H
To both HOUSES of PARLIAMENT.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

H A V E had such Assurance of your good Affections to Me,
that I come now
to Thank you,
and particularly for the Supplies you have given Me.

The Season of the Year is so far Advanced, that I can no longer Delay My going into Ireland ; And therefore I think it necessary to

A 2

have

have an Adjournment of the Parliament.

And though it shall be but to a short Day, yet unless some great Occasion require it (of which you shall have due Notice) I do not intend you shall Sit to do Business until the Winter ; And I hope, by the Blessing of God, We shall then have a happy Meeting.

In the mean time I Recommend to you the Discharge of your Duties in your respective Countreys, that the Peace of the Nation may be Secured by your Vigilance and Care in your several Stations.

Then the Speaker by His Majesties Command said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majesties Pleasure, That you Adjourn your selves to the Seventh Day of July next.

And accordingly both Houses did Adjourn themselves to the Seventh Day of July next;
